

eelsnot[®] Boat Therapy

Eco-Friendly Protective Marine Coatings

eelsnot® is an eco-friendly hydrophobic compound that creates a light film on any surface that comes in contact with water that inhibits adhesion of marine life. Unlike many companies we do not use harsh chemicals to accomplish this, eelsnot® just creates a surface too slippery for anything to bond to, therefore the unwanted marine life and slime are removed from the surface with a simple spray of a hose or wipe of a cloth.

eelsnot® will also noticeably increase the speed and fuel economy of your vessel. Since less drag means more speed and less resistance, it goes to reason that the properties of eelsnot® are an important side effect to what eelsnot® can do for you and your customer.

eelsnot® can last up to 4-6 months per application and it adheres to wood, copper, aluminum, fiberglass, epoxy, gel coat, rubber, polypropylene and anything else.

eelsnot® can also be used on the running gear as well, (i.e. props, shafts, transducers and trim tabs). We have a new smaller container made specifically for this market available named eelsnot® Running Gear.

One 20oz. tub of eelsnot® will cover a 30ft boat approximately 3-4 times, which offers 12-18 months of protection.

eelsnot® effectively reduces alien growth.

No more bonding of barnacles or algae to your boat!!!

"Take the time you sacrificed in the past to buff and polish your boat and get out there. Enjoy the water instead!" –Capt. Bob Patroni eelsnot® has proven successful in these areas after a 36 months of testing and customer feedback. (References available upon request) eelsnot® and Boards Sports ETC, LLC are both environmentally friendly.

Our product DOES NO HARM!!

We can only hope that someday other manufacturers of watersports compounds and coatings will see fit to abandon the use of Zinc, Copper and other harmful elements in their products. It is our goal to honor the environment and those that take care of it.
